COMMERCIAL PROPERTY & CASUALTY

Down the Rabbit Hole

Leader's Edge

We have enough data to make accurate predictions. But we have to trust it.

Advanced data analytics and artificial intelligence models are a game changer for the property and casualty insurance industry.

These sophisticated technologies are being used across the insurance value chain to reduce claims administration costs, to segment risks into granular classes of business, and to enhance the customer experience, but underwriters and claims adjusters, in particular, may be at a crossroads.
